AFTERCARE GUIDE

General instructions

Please read and follow all general instructions carefully, regardless of the treatment you had.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

What to do

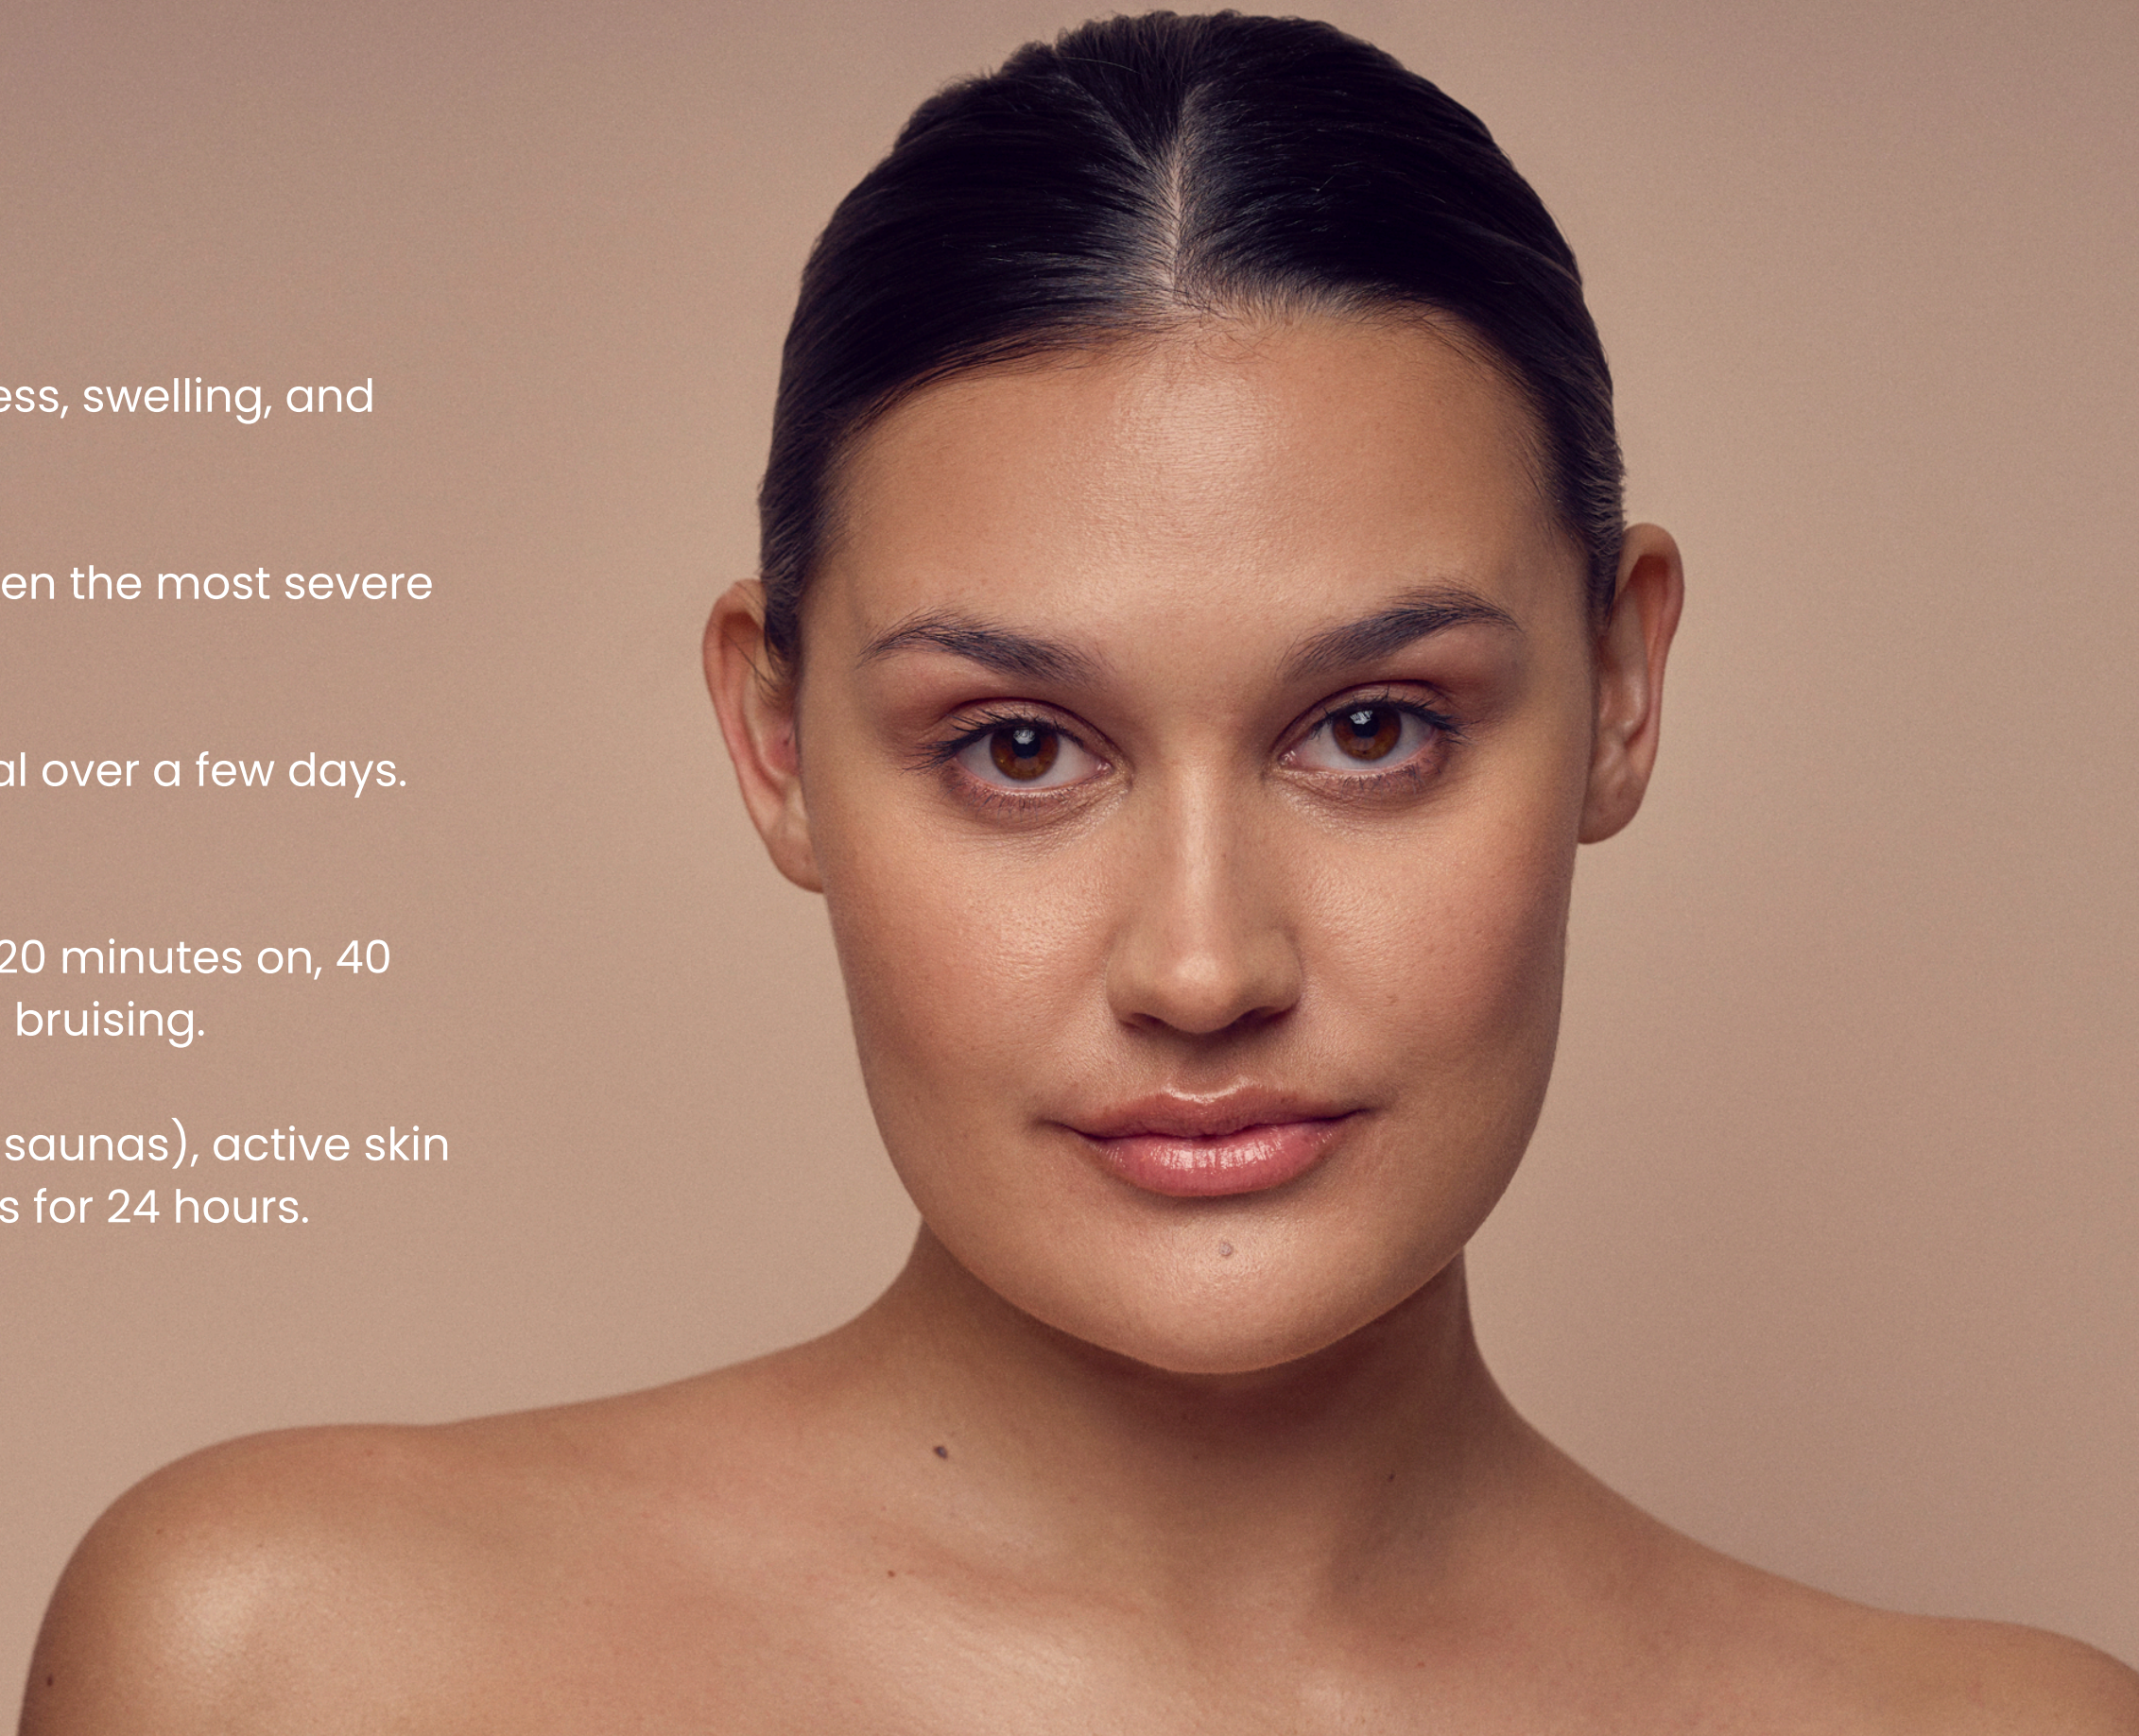

After your treatment it is normal to experience mild redness, swelling, and tenderness in the treated areas. Bruising may also occur.

Swelling may be uneven, and feel firm and lumpy. It is often the most severe the morning after your treatment.

Redness, tenderness, swelling, and bruising gradually heal over a few days. Sometimes it will settle quicker, and other times slower.

Gently apply a wrapped cold pack to the treated areas (20 minutes on, 40 minutes off) to reduce swelling, redness, tenderness, and bruising.

Avoid strenuous exercise, alcohol, hot environments (like saunas), active skin care, smoking, and applying makeup to the treated areas for 24 hours.
